SALVATELLA WINS BY A NOSE.

THRILLING FINISH IN THE BIL-LOW HANDICAP.

Presiding Judge Alone Could Decide It E. R. Thomas's Stalwart Takes Produce-Jockey Helder Hurt in Farcical Steeplechase-Wind Up at Brighton

Only the keen eye of Presiding Judge Dowell could select the winner of he Billow Handicap, at a mile and a quarter, er the Brighton track yesterday after-He was in a direct line with the finish of the most exciting horse races ever seen on a metropolitan track, and his verdict favored William Astor Chanler's Salvatella, a 7 to 1 shot, by a nose. Mrs. L. Curtis's consistent mare, Eugenia Burch, second choice, was placed second, with an eyelash W B. Leeds's Hurstbourne, the favorite, a crowd of 20,000 people going wild over the result. To many horsemen who viewed the struggle at the wire from various angles, Eugenia Burch had a slight advantage, but Judge McDowell was in the best position to decide, and his ruling was undoubtedly was the third of the Seaside Serials, and Hurstbourne carried top weight, giving one pound to Eugenia Burch, ten to Stamping Ground, twelve to Salvatella, sixteen to Sheriff Bell, eighteen to Lux Custa and sixteen to Rightful. Stamping Ground went to the front instantly, and, attended by Lux (asta, set a terrific pace into the backstreton, the half being covered in 0:48 4-5, the five furlongs in 1:01 3-5 and the three-quarters But as they died away, Hurstbourne and Eugenia Burch took their places, still maintaining the hot pace, the mile being turned in 1:39 3-5. At the head of the stretch Hurstbourne led Eugenia Burch by half a length Odom riding Mr. Leeds's colt for all Ben Strome mare, too, when suddenly up from the ruck came Salvatella, Redfern

The crowd broke into a tremendous roar and outside affairs for the moment were forgotten. A few yards from the wire Salvatella seemed igenia Burch, who was in the middle, apparently regained her lost advantage. Hurstbourne spurted too, and they passed the judges so close together that nothing but the hoisting of the numbers set at rest hundreds of disputes. The time was 2:04 1-5, one se cond slower than Waterboy's world's record of 2:03 1-5, made in this year's Brighton Handicap.

galloped on to a hollow victory over Judge Phillips, the only other horse that had a rider.

Bernhardt suddenly came to his senses and pluckily ran over to dypsic, who had been caught, and, remounting him, went on for third money, getting an ovation as he came to the wire with bruised face and tattered jacket. Soffel had a leg and an arm wrenched and rode to the paddock in the starter's carriage. Heider, unconscious and bleeding from an ugly cut at the base of the brain, was placed in an ambulance and carried to his brother's house in Sheepshead Bay, where a surgeon said that he was suffering from a slight concussion of the brain, but with perfect rest would come around all right. There were some hard words for seeplechasing after the race.

Fuller divided the riding honors with Redfern by handling two winners, too. His best performance was in the fifth race, for platers at a mile and a sixteenth, on Unmasked the 2 to 1 favorite. The son of Domino had the extreme outside position at the post, but Fuller made a dash for the rail, using his whip in the effort and, after securing the coveted place, he stared there in front, keeping Unmasked under visible restraint. The Domino gelding, who has lately developed marked ability to go a route, was full of running, and when Fuller skinned the rail with him at the head of the stretch it was all over. Unmasked was not even hurried, and woneasily by a length in the fast time of 1:46 2-5, traviota, 80 to 1, who was practically left at the post, ran superbly under Tommy Meade's sudance, and finished second a half a length in front of Locket, also a 60 to 1 shot. Payne, heavily played at 11 to 5, was knocked out of it at an early stage, and Higgins made no attempt to proceed after that.

Fuller heiped the Weston Stable's Pol Roger, 8 to 1, to get out of the maiden two-vear-old class in the first event at five and a half furlongs, the colt running over Rob Roy, the favorite in the concluding event, a highweight handicap at six furlows. The Bowery, backed down to 7 to 2, by a h

BRIGHTON TURF GOSSIP.

J. B. Haggin to Send Brood Marcs in Feel to South Africa. Racing is in a thriving condition in South Racing is in a thriving condition in South Africa, with Johannesburg the Mecca for turfmen from all over the world. Many English stallions and brood mares have been sent there already, and now comes the announcement that James B. Haggin, the most extensive breeder of thoroughbreds in America, will take a hand in the game. It was stated at Brighton yesterday that Mr. Haggin had practically made arrangements with William Easton, the well known auctioneer, to take a consignment of 150 brood mares to take a consignment of 150 brood mares in foal to South Africa this winter. If the enterprise is productive of success, it is pos-sible that Mr. Haggin and other American breeders will go further. At recent sales several turfmen have purchased racehorses breeders will go further. At recent sales several turfmen have purchased racehorses with a South African campaign in view, and it is believed that before long there will be something of an exodus of fortune seeking owners from American shores. Racing in South Africa is conducted on the lines of the English turf, and a reign of prosperity has already set in.

The appearance of the famous Brigadier in the last race yesterday brought to mind the remarkable performance of the six-year-old son of Rayon d'Or—St. Bridget when he hung up the world's record of 1:37 4-5 for a mile on a circular track in 1901, nis four-year-old year, at Sheepshead Bay. These figures remained untouched until last August, when the crack Western three-year-old Dick Welles ran a mile at the Harlem track, Chicago, in 1:37 2-5. Brigadier is now owned by Frank Farrell, who has haw him for more than a year. The old fellow was looked upon as a hopeless cripple, but Trainer Frank Weir has handled him carefully, with the idea of getting him to a race. Brigadier looked high in flesh yetserday and had little speed. He pulled up sound.

After the races yesterday turfmen were of the opinion that the sport at Brighton had been of a higher class than usual and that form had not been far from the public celculations. During the meeting just closed there was not a race which caused scandalmongers to get busy.

Goodwin's Official Turf Guide, No. 13, has just been issued, with the usual valuable information for turfmen.

Princeton won its third victory in the Intercollegiate Golf Association championship yesterday at the Garden City Golf Club, when Frank O. Reinhaft defeated W. C. Chick, one of the Cambridge cohorts. The roster now makes Princeton even with Harvard, with two wins for Yale, but on the scores: with two wins for Yale, but on the team championships Harvard has the lead. There was a great interest in the match be-tween the finalists, for Reinhart, besides two victories over Walter J. Travis, has been very prominent in golf about New York, occupying, indeed, much the same position in golfing reputation that Chick holds about in which the club members and the sojourners pools about. This, of course, is an outside matter, but the betting was $100 to $75 in favor of Reinhart.

favor of Reinhart.

They halved the first hole in 4 setting out, but then, as Reinhart topped into the pit and Chick pulled off into the rough, the second hole, which is an easy 3, was halved in 5. Thereafter the one striking feature of the outward journey was the poor putting by Chick, who on the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh greens required three strokes, when two should have sufficed so at the turn the Princetonian was 3 up. Chick improved on his game thereafter, but his chase was a hopeless one, for there is not an amateur in the country who can give to Reinhart a lead of four holes and a beating. At the end of the morning Reinhart was still 4 up, and, as in the afternoon, nothing but a phenomenal series of holes would have beaten him. The Princetonian retained this lead to the end of the match.

HONORS FOR GRANT AND LE ROY. Central Figures at Lawn Tennis Reception

-They Defeat Ward and Hackett. In honor of the clever record made by Nylie C. Grant and Robert Le Roy during their recent tour on foreign tennis courts, their clubmates of the New York Tennis Club yes-terday tendered them a reception on the club grounds, 123d street and St. Nicholas avenue The prizes and cups won by the young Americans were on exhibition, chief among them being the silver cup representing the championship of Europe.

The feature of the afternoon was the exhibition team match between Grant and Le Roy and Holcombe Ward and Harold H. Hackett, the former pair winning two sets to one. While they have not played together of late, Ward and Hackett are two of the ranking players of the country. Before their trip to the other side Grant and Le Roy had gained their chief distinction as the indoor champlayers of the country. Before their trip to the other side Grant and Le Roy had gained in the class of Ward or Hackett.

In spite of the lateness of the season the interest in the match was sufficient to attract a good sized crowd, and the benches surrounding the courts were comfortably filled long before the counted was started. That the experience of Grant and Le Roy against the experience of Grant and Le Roy against the experience of Grant and Le Roy against strength was fully demonstrated yesterday. Except for occasional wild strokes, the work of both was of a high order. Grant's smashing at the net was moet timely, while Le Roy governed frequently with a sharp cross court drives.

On the sepond set Hackett and Ward forced the play, gaining a good lead, which they maintained to the end. Le Roy and Grant failed to work well together and could only get two games. In this set Ward's cross court drives captured a number of points.

On the sepond set, however, the younger pair strek a winning gait and soon had their opponents on the run. In quick succession, giving wild or into the net. A third game for the fourth game, but the following went to the younger pair, who worked pluckly up from 39-40scors. Among others who have lately joined the league are Thomas A. Edison, Col. Albert A. Pope, Commodors Frederick G. Bourne of the New York Yacht Club, Gen. Lew Wallace, Senator A. S. Mann of Florida, President Milton D. Budlong of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers and Mrs. Howard Gould. The rapid growth of the league during the present year is the result of vigorous and systematic recruiting work carried on by President Potter, under whose administration the League of American Wheelmen attained a membership of 103,000. The league will hold a national assembly at New York in January next at which a separate "Good Roads Day" will be a prominent feature. It is the only national body of automobilists whose constitution provides for the formation of State and local organizations and for the distribution of league funds among such organizations to aid in State and local work. Since last April the league has more than quadrupled its membership.

Crescent A. C. Trap Shooting. Despite a keen wind the competitions in the weekly trap shooting tournament of the Crescent A. C. at Bay Ridge yesterday were of the finest description. In the fourth competition for the October cup at twenty-five targets, Lowell M. Palmer, Jr., and W. W. Marshall tied with clean scores with their handicaps and each man's score goes in on the general average for the trophy. Palmer did some splendid shooting, garnering two fifteen-bird trophy events.

T. William Stake, with a clean score of fifteen breaks, won the next fifteen target event with a straight score, having a handicap of 3. H. B. Vanderveer, for the first time at the traps this season, won two twenty-five target events, tying with Palmer in the first and winning on the shoot-off, 25 to 24. In the second he won with a straight score of 25, handicap, 5.

The next event at fifteen targets went to Dr. J. J. Keyes after a triple tie with L. M. Palmer, Jr., and H. B. Vanderveer, each 13. A. G. Southworth, after tving with B. B. Meeker and Dr. J. J. Keyes, won the final event at fifteen targets, the final scores being Southworth, 13; Keyes, 12, and Meeker, 9. Despite a keen wind the competitions in HORSE AND CARRIAGE TRADE.

Recent visitors to England have noticed on the streets of London, Birmingham and one or two other large cities an entirely new idea in private hansoms. This vehicle is probably as original a departure from old models in vehicles as the carriage world has seen for some years. As a rule, novelties in carriages are not considered desirable, but the new hansom has come into instant favor among the best people abroad, and is destined to be just as popular in the United States. The patent rights on this vehicle have been secured for the United States by Studebaker Brothers' Manufacturing Company. It is now on exhibition at the New York repository, Broadway and Forty-eighth

One of the busiest spots in Greater New York is the repair shop of Edward Callanan's Sons at 184 West Forty-sixth street. During the so-called dull season of summer this shop was worked to the full capacity, and even then was unable to keep pace with the demand. Now, that many have returned to town and the work made ready during the summer is in use, the vehicles used during the outing season are sent to the shop to be overhauled and made bright and new in readiness for use when wanted. It is true economy to keep carriages in good order, and a coat of varnish at least once each year -six months is better-will add years to the life of a vehicle.

W. H. Gray at 63 Wooster street, reports a good fall trade in second-hand and shop-worn carriages. There is a growing demand among thrifty buyers for a carriage that is practically new and has as much service as when it left the hands of the builder. Of course the original price is in many cases cut in half. At the Wooster street emporium a good line of station Rocksways is shown. Some have glass front so arranged as to take the place of a brougham in stormy weather and to be opened and become as airy as a park trap when the bright October days invite the change.

GROWTH OF NATIONAL AUTO BODY

American Motor League Will Furnish Guide Boards to Town Officials.

A notice has been sent out to clubs and automobilists personally by the American Motor League stating that the organization will supply steel enamelled guide boards to highway commissioners, town officers, automobile clubs and others at "cut rates" during the coming winter and spring. The letters and figures on these metal signs are white with dark blue background, height of letters, about three inches, lines about one inch

Van Tassell & Kearney announce auction sales of horses and carriages on Tuesday and Friday of each week, at their mart, 130 and 132 East Thirteenth street. This leading house in the trade has been established since 1867, and each year has brought added properity and increase of business. It is generally conceded to be the best place for buying anything pertaining to a driving outfit. Every representation made at the sale will be guaranteed, and the guarantee of Van Tassell & Kearney is as good as that of "Uncle Sam.", This is the reason why consignors always get satisfactory prices. The public buys with confidence. Entries for the sale can be made up to 5 o'clock on the day before selling. Catalogues of each sale are ready on the morning of the sale.

ready on the morning of the sale.

Flandrau & Co., at their centrally located show rooms, 408 to 412 Broome street, have on sale a number of second hand and slightly used carriages at prices that represent about one-half the first cost of manufacture. Many of these carriages need only a coat of varnish with here and there a touch of the paint brush to look and really be equal to new. Every large carriage factory accumulates some shop soiled vehicles or those taken in exchange from patrons who have a fancy for something different before using much. The buyer who seeks to study true economy will prefer these bargains and appreciate the saving in outlay.

At the salesrooms in Newark, J. M. Quinby & Co. are showing a fine display of station wagons that are really a credit to the manufacturers. The rockaway has always been a popular carriage with the general public because in cold or inclement weather it can be made aswarm and coseyas a brogham, while in mild autumn, spring or summer it can be as pleasant and cheerful as a surrey or phacton. Quinby & Co. have long had a reputation for making the best in vehicles that skill and conscientious duty to patrons can produce. Many of the designs are original, especially in the ever popular station rockaway, for which the house has become the leader in novelies.

It seems like adding line upon line and precept upon precept to again remind readers of the advantages the Mark Cross Company offers to all who ride or drive or find pleasure in the motor car. The line of saddles is without doubt the most complete to be found on this side of the water, except it be at another store of the company, the same applies to the harness department. More floor space is given to this line and a greater variety shown than at any store or shop not supplied and controlled by the Mark Cross Company. The owner of an automobile will find everything needed to make the journey one of comfort and to put the entire outfit in harmony. This applies to the new department for women as well us to the supplies for men.

Not to know the advantages of buying harness, blankets, robes or stable supplies at the Peters Harness and Saddlery Company, if such things must be purchased, argues a lack of knowledge essential to the buyer who wishes to study real economy. Stable blankets, lined, are quoted at $1: farm stable blankets at $2.50: street blankets are quoted at $1:5, and fancy road blankets at double these figures. Extra heavy truck blankets vary in prices from $2 to $3, according to the weight. Plush hap robes, in plain or fancy, are $2.50: and those who prefer something more expensive will find the assortment complete and all prices as low as the quality will permit. It is a rule with the house not to sacrifice anything to quality.

Business wagons for every purpose ar what the Mutual Wagon Company at 542 to 544 Hudson street announces. Every business man who delivers to patrons can find a wagon here suited to his needs. A line opleasure vehicles is also carried suited to the needs of light driving.

R. S. Luqueer & Co. point with pride to fifty years spent in serving the riding and driving public with the best in harness, saddles and everything pertaining to the stable At the present time the stock is one of the most complete ever shown by this pioneer house. The prices, too, are attractive, and readers who require anything in the line are asked to call.

chased prospective winners. Dr. W. E. Woodend's Baron Brown and Brown Baron, Dr. John L. Wentz's Lord Standard and Lord Teaneck, and Frederic Condè's Fing Pong and San Toy are some of the Standard steppers that will be shown by their purchasers. All of these horses have been prominent winners at the earlier shows. Mr. Macnaughtan, president of the company, sold last week to a prominent exhibitor the handsome, high-going chestnut geldings Challenger and Rival. Among the horses he will exhibit are Duke of York and Duke of Kent, a pair of seal browns, 15.3 hands high, of grand form and action. Mr. Macnaughtan says they have trotted a mile in 236 on the half-mile track at Teaneck.

William R. Bishop at 36 Warren street has some bargains in second-hand road wagons and carriages that are worth the attention of intending buyers. In the salesroom are shown some attractive station wagons, the most popular carrage for the general public. The prices are as attractive as the vehicles. There is not a useful vehicle made that cannot be found at Bishop's. The man of leisure, the business man and the tiller of the soil can find here something suited to their needs. And then, Bishop's prices are always right prices.
